Product Description

The FIBARO Walli Outlet is a smart socket that allows you to control connected electronic devices. So you don't have to worry about the forgotten coffee machine or lamp. The small FIBARO Walli Outlet measures both the active power and the energy consumption and converts this into a visual signal by means of the LED ring. Installation is child's play and can be done according to your individual wishes. Use the supplied socket cover or your own socket series (GIRA System 55, Legrand Celiane, Schneider Odace).
