Product Description

This 3-in-1 charging cable from Delock is used to charge various devices, such as tablets or smartphones with Lightning™ or USB Type-C™ connection via a USB power source.

Practical companion The cable is the ideal companion for on the go, e.g. on business trips or on holiday, as it combines the two most common connections for current mobile devices in a single cable. This avoids annoying cable clutter and the unnecessary carrying around of countless cables.

Quality and performance The cable is very durable and long-lasting thanks to its robust textile sheathing, strong strain relief and metal housing at all cable ends. The high wire gauge of 22 AWG also supports a stable power supply of up to 3 A.
