Product Description

Magnetic USB-C cable from the renowned company Maclean Energy, model MCE474, for charging and data transfer. It enables charging via a mains charger and directly via a USB port. Thanks to the magnetic USB-C connector, the plug does not need to be removed from the device, just detach the cable. This solution allows you to charge multiple devices with one cable and reduces wear and tear on the phone socket. The angled plug is ideal for gaming or watching videos while charging your mobile phone. In addition, thanks to its design, the plug can be rotated in two planes.
